This is an age of utility—it is the genuine that finds itself cherished in the end. "Things have their laws as well as men, and things refuse to be trifled with." It is the quality and size of the harvest that tells the seed sowing and the hoeing-it i :what you have to show for your time and money that tempers the thanksgiving. It's what your money buys at Loeser's that makes it go so far. The unvarnished utility of merchandising that gives the growing satisfaction. And this store was never more interesting, and never a better time to make ready for this annual coming of old Thanksgiving. Indeed, Father Time will be taken at a disadvantage if you commence to do some of the leisurely, comfortable holiday shopping now. The store is full of novelty; it has made preparations for your convenience, necessity and desire. No luck about it, though only perhaps the "hard luck" of some dealers or makers which gives you the good luck of buying a dollars' worth of merchandise for about fifty cents. A positive truth, which you will find has actually

Men's Single-Breasted Sack Suits

BROOKLYN ADVERTISEMENTS.

Made to Order $25, Usually $35 to $40. Just fifty men may share in this important offer. Our tailoring store has experienced the busiest season of its existence, and that's the cause of this good news. We have gathered together all of our single suit lengths, the remnants numbering fifty in all and comprising fancy cheviots, fancy worsteds and worsted cheviots; patterns are the best of the season. To-morrow fifty men may take their choice and have a single-breasted sack suit, cut on the newest lines and finished and tailored in a manner that will reflect credit on our tailoring store. And we repeat our oft-repeated clause—if you are not satisfied, you do not have to take the suit. We've only cloth enough for men up to 42 chest.

Lace Curtains and Portieres.

Clearing Up of Odd Lots.

Our uncommonly large business this autumn and particularly our special sales) have left us with quite a large number of 2, 3 and 4 pair lots of Renaissance, Irish point and Nottingham lace curtains, which we are not going to duplicate. Professors to Negro Grave Robbers -Remarkable Confession of a Colored Preacher. Who Directed the Ghouls. INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 20 .- What is believed to be the most sensational grave robbing record ever made in any country has been developed here within the past few weeks. Sixty-three graves have been opened and the bodies found to be missing; twentyfour persons are under arrest in connection it was through the remarkable memory of this man that the names of so many persons whose bodies have been stolen were secured. He visited the cemeteries with the police, pointed out graves that he had robbed, told who had been buried in them, and every grave that was opened corroborated his testimony.

His defence was that he had been told by His defence was that he had been told by the officers of medical colleges that there was no law against robbing graves, that it was an honorable business and that science was advanced through the practice. Though a man of remarkable intelligence, he professed to believe that he was en-gaged in an honorable business and not to have been undeceived till he and his gang were arrested.

four persons are under arrest in connection with the crimes; and hundreds of persons who have buried relatives in the past two years are tormented by the fear that their bodies have been dissected.

The persons arrested represent all conditions in society, from the common laborer to the successful practitioner of medicine; from the negro roustabout at the saloon, to the well-to-do farmer, and even an undertaker, a cemetery owner and the watchmen employed by him, are among the accused persons.

Rufus Cantrel, the leader of the gang of colored ghouls, is a minister, and officiated at many of the funerals of the colored sanguage was fired upon by the watchman.

In running from the place Wood fell and fractured his skull against a tombstone. He was taken to the City Hospital, where he died a week later, never having recovered consciousness. The gang promptly stole Wood's body and delivered it to the medical college where Wood himself had assisted in delivering many bodies.

Isom Donnell, another member of the gang, received a revelation after his arrest that very much surprised him. Before he became a member of the gang his wife died and Cantrel, being a minister, was employed to officiate at the funeral. The corpse was taken in a covered wagon to employed to officiate at the funeral. The corpse was taken in a covered wagon to Mount Jackson cemetery. While on the way Cantrel lay down by the coffin, took out the body, hid it under the driver's seat and then buried the empty coffin in the presence of the relatives and friends, making a final prayer after the grave was filled up. Donnell did not speak to Cantrel for several days after he learned of this treachery, but their jail life soon made them friends again and they are now very chummy

It is estimated by Cantrel and members of his gang that fully 200 bodies have been "lifted" in the past two years and sold to the medical colleges in this city. According to him, Dr. Joseph C. Alexander, demonstrator of anatomy at the Central College of Physicians and Surgeons, bas been the purchaser of nearly all the bodies, and the police believe they have woven a web of testimony, circumstantial and direct, around the doctor that he cannot possibly break. the doctor that he cannot possibly break. His trial is set for the latter part of this

Said an old practitioner to-day: "The nedical colleges in this city would not use one-fourth of the bodies that are known to have been stolen and it must be that they have been shipped to other ciries for dissection. As a rule, one body suffices for ten medical students and, if bodies are scarce, one is divided up among even a greater number. Eight or ten bodies a year is all that could be used."

C. M. Willis, the undertaker under arrest is charged with stealing a body which had been intrusted to him for burial. Dorie Snowden died and was prepared by Willis for interment and the cervices were held at his morgue. After the services, he and Cantrel, so Cantrel says, took the body from the coffin, substituted a cheaper one, and Cantrel buried the empty coffin, the glass having been broken at Willis's suggestion so that it might appear that ghouls atole the body if the grave was ever opened. Cantrel went with the officers to Snowden's grave, described the coffin men at a cemetery; and thirteen negroes.

TO SETTLE 2,000,000 ACRES. Chicago Syndicate Proposes to Send 12.500 Colonists to Canada.

A syndicate of Chicago men has made a proposition to the Canadian Government to colonize 2,000,000 acres of land in the new Ontario within ten years. The Canadian Government is so favorably disposed toward the scheme that an agreemeent is being draughted which will probably go into effect. The agreement, if approved by the Canadian Council, should be formally ratified inside of a month

The representatives of the syndicate conducting the negotiations with the Canadian officials, in what is regarded as the greatest colonization scheme ever undertaken in the Dominion, are J. F. Egan and former Judge W. H. Utt of Chicago. They propose to pay the Canadian Government 50 cents an acre for the land to be settled, which is the ordinary rate for settlement land, the patent to issue direct to the settlers

The syndicate may sell the land at a price agreed upon by the purchaser, but must not exceed a maximum price of $3 an acre. It is estimated that if the syndicate succeeds in carrying out its scheme 12,500 actual settlers, or about 50,000 people, will be brought into the new land, not taking into account the population engaged in manufacturing

From the Government's standpoint the colonization proposition is looked upon as an excellent one. The Government proposes to have absolute control over the class of settlers, and they all must become Canadian citizens. Should it be to the public interest go through it is bound to have considerable effect on the development of the new On-tario and also provide a market for the busi-ness men of the old Ontario.

"The has to say on the subject:
"The project is completely financed, and ready to commence business at once. We will have a regular organization and will be ready to announce our incorporation and officers promptly.

"We will have a capital of at least $1,000,000, but the men at the back of the enterprise have enough to see it through if it takes five millions. Our proposition is to bring in English-speaking white settlers, who are able to read and write and are of good character.

"For our own protection, as well as a guarantee that the settlers will be of a proper class, we will insist that each settler accepted by our company shall furnish written statements from at least three men or citizens of standing in his home community, showing that he is a man of upright character and fulfils in every particular the requirements of good citizenship.

"If after his arrival, the Government takes exception to the character of a settler, the company is bound at its own expense to send him back within fifteen days.

come here from time to time will have the lands to go on."

The representatives of the syndicate say that they intend to get their settlers from the United States, principally from the middle Western and Northwestern States and the farming communities of New England. The settlers will be expected to fight their own way, endure hardships, and, in a word, meet the conditions that exist.
